

ethnicity / race

mental health

physical ability

country of origin

We aspire to create a Safe Space— free of hate, division, stereotypes, presumptions, labels, or other societal constructs that exclude or marginalize people, whether intentionally or unintentionally — a place where people are welcome and respected for their:

age

religion

orientation

gender identity

occupation

This PDF can be distributed freely to anyone who is interested. Created by the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee in the Duke University Department of Immunology.

We aspire to create a Safe Space— free of hate, division, stereotypes, presumptions, labels, or other societal constructs that exclude or marginalize people, whether intentionally or unintentionally — a place where people are welcome and respected for their:

physical ability

ethnicity / race

mental health

age

country of origin

We aspire to create a Safe Space— free of hate, division, stereotypes, presumptions, labels, or other societal constructs that exclude or marginalize people, whether intentionally or unintentionally — a place where people are welcome and respected for their:

